

Passed on home run list, Reggie Jackson won't needle Alex Rodriguez (New York Daily News)

Contributed by Webmaster

More info...

Alex Rodriguez looks as fresh as ever, which is great news for the Yankees. It's not very good news for Rafael Palmeiro and Harmon Killebrew, who are A-Rod's next two targets on the all-time home run list now that he's moved past Reggie Jackson.

Enviro home is a load of rubbish (Sunshine Coast Daily)

An array of items scavenged from the garbage tip have been used to create a mock home to push the sustainability message at today's World Environment Day Festival on the Sunshine Coast.

MAJOR-LEAGUE NOTES / Outta here! Mad Bradley sent home (San Francisco Chronicle)

Milton Bradley's temper tantrum was one too many for Chicago Cubs manager Lou Piniella. Piniella told the mercurial slugger to go home Friday afternoon after Bradley threw his helmet and went after a water cooler following a fly out in the top of the sixth...

Smoltz: Good to be home (Atlanta Journal-Constitution)

John Smoltz got to kick back and enjoy being at home in Atlanta on Friday, without dealing with the swirling emotions and amped-up atmosphere that would have been there if the former Braves pitching icon's first start for the Boston Red Sox had been against his old team.